VALUE PROPOSITION

Networking & Relationships

Apart from communication during working hours, this platform introduces breakout rooms, recreational spaces and online team building activities to effectively build knowledge sharing. When users of this co-working space are no longer limited to internal company communication, they can exchange travel information and insights with individuals from different companies.

Co-operation & Partnerships

Taking Andalucía Lab to the global market turns it more than just an online co-working space, it becomes a tourism-oriented resource common. Creative people can find partners to develop their businesses and start companies on this platform, and companies looking for business partnerships can easily find partners here to co-operate and enhance their business competitiveness.
